1. Observe where different materials are being deposited (that is, sand, clay), and label them on the map.

2. Label on the map where the water is flowing fastest and where it is flowing slowest.

3. Label on the map any landforms that have been created.